Introduction

Through inclusive and innovative practice we nurture the Aquila family to provide exceptional learning experiences, enriching the lives of all in our unique communities. We aspire to excellence and this statement has been written to reflect our core values but specifically Enrich, Trust and Aspire

“So whatever you wish that others would do to you, do also to them, for this is the Law and the Prophets.” Matthew 7:12

The Public Sector Equality Duty

The Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED), part of the Equality Act, came into force in April 2011. It requires organisations to eliminate unlawful discrimination, advance equality of opportunity, and foster good relations.

The duty has a key role to play in making sure that fairness is at the heart of public bodies' work and that public services meet the needs of different groups. It covers a range of public bodies, including academies, schools, NHS organisations, government departments, local authorities, and police authorities.

The duty replaces the three former duties that required government departments, local authorities and other public bodies to take into account sex, race and disability equality both as employers and when making policy decisions and delivering services. The duty standardises this requirement and also extends it to coverage, religion or belief, sexual orientation, pregnancy and maternity and gender reassignment. It also applies to marriage and civil partnership, but only in respect of the requirement to have due regard to the need to eliminate discrimination.

Section 149(1) of the Equality Act 2010 puts various requirements on academies when exercising their functions. The general duty requires academies to have due regard to:

- eliminate discrimination, harassment and victimisation and other conduct prohibited under the Act
- advance equality of opportunity between persons who share a relevant protected characteristic and persons who do not share it
- foster good relations between persons who share a relevant protected characteristic and persons who do not share it.

Having “due regard” is defined by the duty as the need to advance equality of opportunity involves considering the need to:

- remove or minimise disadvantages suffered by people due to their protected characteristics;
- meet the needs of people with protected characteristics; and
- encourage people with protected characteristics to participate in public life or in other activities where their participation is low.

Fostering good relations involves tackling prejudice and promoting understanding between people who share a protected characteristic and others. This means that consideration of equality issues must influence the decisions reached by academies, such as:

- how they act as employers
- how they develop, evaluate and review policy
- how they design, deliver and evaluate services • how they commission and procure from others.

Equality Statement

Aquila, The Diocese of Canterbury Academies Trust (the trust) will ensure that equal opportunities and the principles of fairness underpin all aspects of policy, procedure, education provision, consultation and decision-making.

The Trust is committed to equality in its delivery of education, whether or not the service is directly provided by us or contracted by the school to a third-party provider.

The Trust is committed to adopting the aims of the PSED in all schools and workplaces. We aim to provide high-quality education services, making sure services are easily accessible. We will improve what we do by continuing to consult with staff, students, parents and governors, their communities and partners about equality issues. We will promote our equal opportunities policy in our contact with parents, staff, governors and external organisations.

We will make every effort in creating equality of opportunity to ensure they are accessible and fair to everyone. Every person has the right to be treated fairly, regardless of race, sex, gender reassignment, sexual orientation, disability, age, culture, religion or pregnancy and maternity. Where necessary we will implement reasonable adjustments, or additional support, to ensure equality of access to education and a suitable working environment.

Our staff and governors who are responsible for the delivery of our education provision will recognise diversity and demonstrate a proactive approach in their day-to-day work. They will ensure that everyone is treated fairly, recognise special needs and understand differences. Behaviour will reach our high standards of conduct (staff and students) and the learning environment we provide will be safe and accessible for those studying and working.

The Trust will adhere to statutory Government legislation and consider other relevant guidance, which aims to make sure that everyone is treated with equity.

Employment

Aquila is committed to ensuring that employees have equal access to jobs, training, and professional development opportunities. The Trust currently employs 691 staff.

Our Staff Handbook refers to the provisions of the Equalities Act 2010. By way of example, the Handbook includes policies addressing equal opportunities, harassment, equal pay, dignity at work and various family leave rights and also policies to raise concerns, for example, the grievance and whistleblowing policies.

The Trust recognises that the Act extends beyond the protected characteristics of an individual employee and has broader responsibilities to employees and situations that may be covered by the Act. For example, an employee with parental or caring responsibilities for a disabled dependent may have rights under the Act which the school would need to consider.

All recruitment will be within the provisions of the Act, and applications will be monitored to report on recruitment activity, in line with the Act.

Age is a protected characteristic concerning employment but does not apply to pupils in academies/schools.

Employees who are in breach of our policies will be dealt with under the Trust's disciplinary policy where appropriate.

Pupil Provisions

The Trust and its schools currently have 4032 pupils under its care. We will ensure that pupils are provided with appropriate support to recognise their individual needs. This includes protection under the Act extending the reasonable adjustment duty to require schools to provide auxiliary aids and services to disabled students.

All policies relating to the provision of education, the curriculum, behaviour for learning, attendance, exclusion, medical treatment and Child Protection and safeguarding policies should consider the provisions and duties of the Act.

Contractors and Service Providers

Each school and the trust will ensure that all service providers that are contracted to provide services to students, staff or visitors will comply with Equalities legislation.

Where services are deemed not to meet Trust/School standards, concerning equal opportunities and fairness, contracts may be terminated.

Outcomes of Objectives 21-23

The following objectives were agreed upon by the Trust Board in 2021 and formed the basis of our commitment to the responsibilities outlined by the PSED. We have achieved the following since these targets have been set;

1. Each academy will monitor and analyse pupil achievement and progress by ethnicity, sex and disability, and act on any trends or patterns in this data that identify the need for additional support for pupils with the aim of narrowing the gap for vulnerable groups.

- The School on a Page report pulls pupil attainment and progress data for all main vulnerable pupil groups. Bromcom allows further analysis by specific vulnerable groups in school (for example attendance in an SRP, GRT pupils, Ukrainian refugees).
 - Charing accessed additional funding and an additional member of staff to support their cohort of Ukrainian pupils.
2. Each academy will provide a secure environment in which all our children can flourish and achieve. We will do this using five key outcomes: be healthy, stay safe, enjoy and achieve, make a positive contribution, and enjoy economic well-being.
 - Schools employ nurture team staff to support the most vulnerable pupils regardless of their characteristics.
 - All Aquila schools are engaging in Trauma-informed training and networking
 - Safeguarding has a priority in every school.
 - We have employed an educational psychologist and assistant educational psychologist to ensure interventions are focussed and accessed promptly for all pupils.
 3. Each academy will monitor their curriculum and ensure it is broad and balanced, and reflect the importance of equality and inclusivity.
 - Subject leader networks are working on developing learning and knowledge progression in every curriculum area. These will be consistent across Aquila but with opportunities to tweak for each school to be responsive to the local context.
 4. Improve our knowledge and understanding of issues of anti-discriminatory practice, promoting equality and valuing diversity
 - A development session was held in July 2022 which offered an overview of equality issues for all Senior leadership within the Trust.
 - As part of the wider development activity, Governors and trustees have been encouraged to engage with the training modules available from NGA Learning Link so that they have a better understanding of Equality, Diversity and Inclusion issues and their strategic importance.
 5. Adopt a Trust-wide HR information system that will incorporate the ability to provide robust reporting on and monitoring of equalities data relating to our staff and employees.
 - The trust now uses Access People and this is well established with Staff. The system enables us to develop a much better understanding of the staffing profile but as a self-service system, it relies on the information that staff are willing to disclose.
 - The trust equality data has now been published on the website. Further work to develop the data collated and how this can be extracted is necessary to have a clear picture based on employees and not contracts.
 6. Develop our recruitment processes so that current and potential staff have equality of opportunity.
 - There is a trust-wide Recruitment policy and standardised equal opportunity statement used for all trust recruitment. Each stage of the process is accessible to all and considers the needs of those with protected characteristics when applying for roles within the trust.

- The HR Manager is now aware of all recruitment activities undertaken by the trust and its schools to ensure recruitment is transparent and processes are robust.
- Risk assessments are undertaken where staff have highlighted particular needs to support them in undertaking their duties.

Objectives 23-24

Our objective this year will be split into the following areas with specific targets to achieve in each instance

Equality and Diversity in Employment

1. To re-assess our recruitment activities and consider how best to increase representation from protected groups so that our workforce is reflective of the diversity of the communities we serve.
2. To continue to develop our understanding of the staffing profile of the trust and the data collected to inform decisions on equality issues.

Equality and Diversity for Pupils

1. To continue to close the GAP for students with protected characteristics.
2. Support and develop staff to enable them to better support pupils from protected groups

Equality and Diversity in Governance

1. To develop our governance membership and seek opportunities to engage those from diverse backgrounds at all levels of governance.
2. To develop an understanding of EDI issues at all levels of governance.

Complaints

The Trust will treat seriously all complaints of unlawful (or potentially unlawful) discrimination. Any complaints will be investigated following the Trust's grievance or complaints policy, whichever is appropriate.
